The University

Now celebrating its 40th year, Florida Atlantic University, the fifth public university in Florida, opened its doors in 1964 with an enrollment of 867 upper-division and graduate students. In 1984, FAU admitted its charter freshman class, becoming a four-year institution. By 2004, enrollment university-wide had grown to more than 25,000.

In addition to its original 850-acre Boca Raton campus, the University has campuses arrayed along more than 140 miles of Florida’s southeast coastline – in Davie, Dania Beach, Fort Lauderdale, Jupiter and Port St. Lucie. Building on a rich tradition as a teaching university with a world-class faculty, FAU now offers more than 130 undergraduate, graduate and doctoral degree programs through its eight colleges: The Dorothy F. Schmidt College of Arts & Letters, the Charles E. Schmidt College of Science, the Christine E. Lynn College of Nursing, the Harriet L. Wilkes Honors College and the Colleges of Business, Education, Engineering & Computer Science, and Architecture, Urban & Public Affairs. About 7,000 online learners participate in an expanding number of distance education classes.

Through initiatives that include a biomedical research relationship with Scripps Florida, a joint medical education program with the University of Miami, and the recently launched $10 million Center of Excellence in Biomedical and Marine Biotechnology, FAU is earning a reputation as an emerging research institution while forging partnerships that are impacting lives in its own community and beyond. The University is also home to one of the nation’s largest and most successful lifelong learning programs for persons of retirement age.

Accreditation

Florida Atlantic University is accredited by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools to award associate’s, bachelor’s, master’s, specialist, and doctoral degrees. FAU is also a member of the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges, and the Council of Graduate Schools in the United States, and its programs are accredited by 16 professional agencies. Currently, FAU offers 61 bachelor’s, 56 master’s, 3 specialist, and 18 doctoral degrees.
